ADGP CID J&K Addressing during the debate

Criminal Investigation Department (CID), J&K headed by Shri K.Rajendra Kumar IPS Additional Director General of Police organized a state level debate on "Human Rights" at Police Auditorium, Gulshan Ground Jammu on April 15, 2010. The topic of the debate was "there should be equal condemnation of human rights violation committed by security forces and Terrorists".

Hon'ble Justice (Retd.) Syed Bashir-ud-Din, Chairperson, Jammu and Kashmir State Human Rights Commission, was the Chief Guest on the occasion who presided the debate attended by Jammu based senior police officers besides 16 participants/speakers belonging to different wings of Police Organization.

During his welcome address, Shri K.Rajendra Kumar IPS ADGP CID J&K highlighted the objectives of the debate in question. He said that the department has made Human Rights debate an annual event and such debates are regularly organized at different levels to bring awareness about the respect of human rights among the jawans and officers of police.

Shri Kuldeep Khoda IPS DGP J&K while addressing the function said that Jammu and Kashmir Police has always upheld the human rights despite working in tough situations. He said that the figures of collateral damages during the past years have come down considerably and it is result of public cooperation that the police along with other security forces is conducting successful operations against the militants without causing any civil Casualties. He added that organisation has introduced human rights as a subject in its training institutions and is also deputing its officers and men to other States for getting specialized trainings on the subject. DGP reminded police personnel that they have been administered the oath at their enrolment in the department to safeguard the rights of the people and thus they have more responsibility to uphold their oath. The civil society has great expectations with the force and we have to come up to their expectations for achieving better results, DGP added. He stressed upon the scholars and media fraternity to bring the facts to the public in right perspective as some vested interests are always trying to exploit the situations out of proportion to misguide the people. He reiterated that there should be no space for any human rights violation by the men in uniform despite extreme provocations by the terrorists.

While addressing the gathering, the Chief Guest, Hon'ble Justice (Retd.) Syed Bashir-ud-Din said that Jammu and Kashmir Police has a great responsibility to honour human rights of the people, being defenders of their rights and has to uphold its record of human rights which they have gained among the forces of the country.

Amongst the 16 police personnel who participated in the debate, Shri Jalal-ud-Din, Ms. Gurjeet Kour and Shri Pardeep Kumar were adjudged first, second and third respectively by designated jury.

DGP REVIEWED J&K POLICE MODERNIZATION PROGRAMME

Shri Kuldeep Khoda IPS Director General of Police J&K convened a high level meeting on April 12, 2010 to review the modernization programme of J&K Police.

While addressing the meeting DGP J&K said that Jammu and Kashmir Police is being provided funds for its modernization by the Central and the State Governments since 2001 and the department has been utilizing these resources to the extent of 100 per cent up to 2008 and there after released more than 75 per cent of the funds yearly. State Police is focusing on up-gradation in at least eight components, including housing sector, procurement of armored vehicles and bunkers for anti-terrorist operations with main emphasis on utilization of funds for procuring latest automatic weapons and communication system for operational groups – the DGP added. DGP further said that a dedicated effort was also made through the utilization of these funds in the areas of office automation, training and enhancing infrastructure abilities in the Police Hospitals and Forensic Laboratories.

State Police is utilizing approximately Rs. 100 crore per year in upgrading its various facilities and logistics including Rs. 50 crores spent each year on construction of buildings and other infrastructure. This was necessitated due to the expansion of the force which has increased from 57,734 in 2000 to 82,418 in 2010- the DGP disclosed.

DGP said that under this scheme, in the housing sector, 88 police station buildings, 43 police post buildings, 150 barracks and 1911 residential quarters have been constructed and also to meet the mobility needs, especially in militancy prone areas of the State, armored vehicles, including bullet proof bunkers, Rakshak vehicles and bullet proof cars are procured. The up-gradation of weaponry and anti-terrorist operation equipments to be procured through the Indian Ordnance Factories continue to be the main focus of the State Police- Shri Kuldeep Khoda IPS DGP J&K said. The modernization phase of the past decade enabled the organization to make major gains and it is now moving into a consolidation phase. An independent consultancy team constituted by the Union Home Ministry, in a recent assessment study acknowledged the excellent utilizations, both in terms of physical and financial targets under the scheme. The assessment study remarked that there has been "significant improvement in the police services of the State in terms of efficiency, fighting militancy and confidence of police personnel".

DGP's INITIATIVES FOR STRENGTHENING POLICE COMMUNICATION IN J&KVideo conferencing facility between PHQ and all the District Headquarters launched

While addressing a meeting convened on April 19, 2010 at Jammu to review the status of the communication network project of the State Police Organization, Shri Kuldeep Khoda IPS DGP J&K said that a massive communication network project has been put in place for providing high-tech telecommunication facilities to the Police Organization across the State.

In the present age of science and technology, communication is an essential tool for better functioning of any organization and keeping this in view, a video conferencing facility between the Police Headquarters at Jammu and Srinagar and all the District Headquarters has been launched at the first instance. This facility will supplement the efforts of the Crime and Criminal Tracking Networking System that has been launched by the Union Home Ministry last year—DGP added that efforts are also on to extend video-conferencing facility with the Police Headquarters of neighboring states in a phased manner for sharing the data.

DGP J&K further said that CCTVs have enabled the State Police to prevent and detect crimes in the capital cities of Srinagar and Jammu and in the next three months, all the major towns of the State will come under effective surveillance through CCTVs.

With a view to fully equip the department for further improving its functioning, special training programmes are being organized for its personnel in modern techniques of law and order management in all the police training institutions in the State. Procuring non-lethal crowd dispersal equipments, improvement in investigation skills and up-gradation of forensic laboratories are the part of this initiative. Bomb detection and disposal squads have been up-graded, X-Ray scanners provided at vital installations, anti-sabotage teams equipped with the latest gadgetry and 2 mbps lease line connectivity established at all the District, Range and Zonal Headquarters with Police Headquarters for online transfer and sharing of data — DGP J&K said and stressed the meeting to lay more focus on up-gradation of intelligence gathering mechanism and creation of Commando Training facilities for Jawans and officers.
