J&K POLICE—SAGA OF SUPREME SACRIFICES

Since 1988, when terrorism was unleashed in the state of J&K by a hostile neighbour, the ever-determined and ever committed J&K Police responded to the urgent call; it came forward with exemplary courage, firm resolve and rare conviction to dismantle the terrorist network. Over the years, notable successes were achieved in the 'War against Terror' and the state established a firm grip over the situation. The successes demanded its toll—1213 valiant officers and men of J&K Police laid down their lives (until December 2005), while displaying exemplary bravery and courage, high traditions of sacrifice and selfless service and commitment to the national goals. Although considerable improvement in the situation on ground is noticeable, yet the menace is not fully finished and the war against terrorism continues.

J&K Police is determined and dedicated to the calling — it has the 'will' and the 'willingness' to root out the menace of terrorism and restore complete normalcy in the state and the march forward continues.

During the month of May alone, 07 police personnel of J&K Police, while displaying valour and devotion to duty, attained martyrdom!

J&K POLICE EVOLVING TO CREATE AN IDEAL LEARNING ATMOSPHERE IN TRAINING INSTITUTIONS

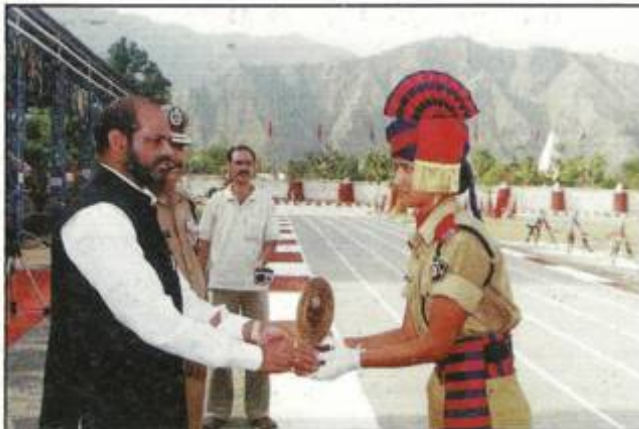

In 90's, when the force expansion took off in the state, J&K Police deputed two batches of IRP recruits to Jarodha Kalan (Delhi) and Jalandhar (Punjab). The reason for sending its recruits for training out side the state was: it had not sufficient physical and infrastructural facilities available then to cater to the training needs of a large number of men enrolled. But, now, J&K Police is self sufficient to impart training to more than 5,000 recruits at a time. What is more satisfying is that about 2000 recruit constables of one of the central forces (Railway Protection Force) did undergo their basic courses from Subsidiary Training Centre, Talwara (Reasi) and S.Prithinandan Singh Police Training School, Kathua, which passed out on May 28 and June 30 respectively.

In consonance with the needs, upgrading the infrastructure, facilities of accommodation, play fields, toilets, furniture, drinking water, mess, medical services, libraries, training tools, gadgets and teaching aids, besides skilled and expert trainers in the training institutions of the state is a continuing process.
